platform. As part of this journey, they also required a modern, efficient and reliable product to move their data from Notes/Domino into Power Apps, a vendor that could handle applications with large volumes of data. The migration project required a product that was highly secure and stable, but also to support migration and export of data consisting of Rich Text, Images, Attachments, crucial metadata etc.

All these requirements led the customer to choose Adopteq Migrator Plus for their migration from Domino to Power Apps with not impact on their business.
