

Adopteq supports Icelandic Government agency to migrate from Domino.

The customer who is an agency within the Icelandic government was looking for the right solution to replace their existing record management system. As part of this journey, they also required a modern, efficient and reliable product to move their data from Notes/Domino into the new platform, a solution that could handle applications with tens of thousands of documents.

Their new solution is based on SharePoint online and therefore the migration project required a product that was highly secure and stable, but also support migration of data consisting of Rich Text, Images, Attachments, crucial metadata etc.

All these requirements, together with great support by a local partner led the customer to choose Adopteq Migrator Plus for their migration from Domino to SharePoint for their 4 databases with over 40000 documents.
